

Used Quality Machines

Used , second-hand, pre-owned but in any case quality machines are offered from dph.

All machines will be re-checked (unless otherwise agreed) in dph workshops before offered to the market. We are proud to have satisfied our esteemed customers, who do return to us on each additional demand and/or requirement in their factories. We are also proud to have been able to serve market leading companies and also those customers having only one machine or even starting new ventures in the packing industry.

We do offer the setting-up of the purchased machine(s) at your site through reliable engineers, bringing in a tremendous amount of Know-How which will be passed on to your technicians through training sessions on the machines itself.
